Q.5 Read the below passage:

The Beirut Law School was a centre for the study of Roman law in ancient days in Beirut. It thrived under the patronage of Roman emperors and was the Roman Empire's pre-eminent centre of law until 551 AD. The Roman law schools had repositories of imperial constitutions and formalized the study and practice of law to relieve the busy imperial courts. The archiving of imperial constitutions eased the task of judges in referring to legal precedents.

Which one of the following is the CORRECT logical inference based on the information in the above passage?

- I) With the destruction of the Beirut Law School and no imperial constitutions and formalized laws, the administration of law and justice in the Roman Empire suffered.
- II) The Beirut Law School as a repository for imperial constitutions and as a centre of law allowed Roman judges to speed up the cases in imperial courts.
- III) The Roman empire did not have any pre-eminent Centre of law before 551AD.

Q.6 Read the below passage:

People are always less happy to accept scientific data they feel contradicts their preconceived beliefs. No surprise here; no human likes to be wrong. But science isn't supposed to care about preconceived notions. Science, at least good science, tells us about the world as it is, and not as some wish it to be. Sometimes what science finds is consistent with a particular religion's wishes. But usually it is not.

Which one of the following is the CORRECT logical inference based on the information in the above passage?

- I) A good science is based on concrete results obtained through assessing the hypothesis.
- II) A good science is not very well received by educated people.
- III) A good science always supposed to care about preconceived notions.

Comprehension:

Read the following passage and answer the questions given below.

It is a truth universally acknowledged that a parent working outside the home must have someone to take care of their child. In India, family structures have historically often filled this need, with fathers working outside the home, and mothers providing child care and elder care. However, this model is not conducive to India's growing ambitions. If the country is to grow into a $5 trillion economy, women must be included. There are two specific ways to get here: women's work, often care work, must be appropriately valued, and women must be adequately supported to participate in economic activity outside the home.
